"TEACHERS HOLD FATE OF CIVILIZATION": MANN

Chicago Rabbi's Address Feature of Educators' Meeting Yesterday

The future civilization of democracy depends solely upon the teaching profession in the United States, Dr. Louis L. Mann, rabbi of Sinai tabernacle, Chicago, told the educators at the close of the annual meeting of the Rock River division of the Illinois Education Association yesterday afternoon at the high school auditorium. His address closed the best attended and most interesting program since the division of the four northern Illinois counties was formed, and many citizens were accommodated in the crowded auditorium, all listening attentively to the able address.

"I firmly believe that the members of the teaching profession are not only the guardians of the city but of civilization as well, in face of the present world wide crises. At the beginning of the twentieth century a veritable modern Utopia on earth was in prospect, but one-third of the century has passed and what have we? There is no despondency so deep as that hope which has disappeared. "We are living in a pessimistic age. Civilization and the development of civilization depends upon change of instinct, which is change of human nature. We have made progress, but our civilization should be tested by the ration of what it has been, should have been or might have been. All of these compose a concrete illustration of what part the teacher might play in responding to the greatest challenge of all time. The part we play in this drama will be the type of name we leave behind.

Crux of Problem Here
"The teaching profession in some countries has undergone great changes in recent years. In European countries the great educators have been trampled down, the teaching profession is government controlled. In these United States, we have a crux of a problem before us. A few years ago we were confronted with a law in some states which compelled the teacher to take an oath. That was the entering wedge in the form of regimentation which was to make of the teacher a tool rather than a personality. It was the first step in state-controlled education. "Education," Dr. Mann told his listeners, "cannot be propagandized, cannot become animal training," and warned, "when education becomes propaganda, it ceases to be education or teaching. "Education is not the mere filling of a sausage then turning the child out filled, or the making of children off the old block. Education must make personality and then hold it inviolate. The great challenge to the teacher must be the freedom of the teaching profession. First and foremost, teachers must preserve man's humanity to man.

War Leaves Only Unfit
"War never shows who is wrong, but shows who is strong. Teachers ought to teach this to the children in their schools and from the time that the child enters the school. War takes the fit away to be moved down like blades of grass, leaving the unfit to be the fathers of the next generation. You cannot breed hogs or dogs like that. "Some years ago in an address, I made the statement that war would be carried on with poison gas bombs. I was ridiculed and censured for that remark. I am telling you of the teaching profession and your friends this afternoon that the next war will be fought with germ bombs serving as the replacement of poison gas. "Nations are bankrupt and cannot stand another great war. Political power is in the staff, right is brushed aside, treaties are of no avail and we find civilization at the cross roads. The teaching profession alone and no other profession can preserve the democratic ideals of civilization at this time.

"Respect for law and order is another criterion to the teacher. We have laws which suit our taste and only recently laws which were intended to suit our thirst. We in America hold the championship record in lynchings. Racketeering is carried on as in no other place in the world. Again we appeal to the teaching profession for respect for law and order.

Almost Lost Our Safety
"A few years ago we went abroad to make the world safe for democracy and almost lost that safety in our own land. Now there is talk of making the world free of nazism, but making it safe for communism. If the preservation of the democracy is not born in

Lack of Oxygen

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 22—(AP)—Five members of one family were found dead in their five-room flat today, and Deputy Police Chief John J. Underwood said they died of lack of oxygen.

Underwood said Frank Cozzi, 31, and two daughters were found in one bedroom, and Nancy, 27, his wife, and another daughter were found in an adjoining bedroom. The children were aged, 8, 9 and 3. Underwood said ambulance physicians explained that the family died because a gas heater under a kitchen water boiler and two electric heaters in the flat had used up all the oxygen.

the school room, then it is lost. That is the teacher's most sacred job. Not until our children are taught to obey the man-made law will democracy be possible. Respect for law and order and of self government must be taught in the classroom.

"The American way has never been surpassed. Do your best to have a bad law changed, but as long as it is the law, obey it."

Prevention, Dr. Mann placed third important in education, and informed the large gathering, prevention is better than cure. To prevent is better than to repent. In this part of his talk he referred to the elimination of slum districts in cities, in which activity he is nationally recognized. The elimination of slums, he said, eliminated crime.

"The only time that we can afford slums," he added, "is during the time of great prosperity. We cannot afford them during a depression. For every dollar spent to prevent crime, we save $100 later on," he continued.

His last criterion to the teaching profession was, understanding. "We are living in a fanatical age," he said, "and the teacher must preserve the teachings of the blond priest of Bethlehem over the blond beast of prey. Civilization is being challenged as it has never been challenged in the ages. There was a wavering when Manchukuo was taken, which was increased when Austria was entered and Czechoslovakia was raped. Not a single treaty in the world today is worth the paper it is written upon. The child's civilization lies before us, and in the name of God, let us join hands before it is too late."

Holds Rockford Firm Violated Labor Act

Chicago, Oct. 22—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today issued a trial examiner's intermediate report finding the Rockford Mitten & Hosiery Company, Rockford, Ill., had engaged in unfair labor practices.

The examiner recommended that the company "cease and desist from interfering with the employees in the exercise of their right of self-organization—and from discouraging membership in the American Federation of Hosiery Workers, through the textile workers organizing committee."

The company was given ten days to advise in writing what steps it had taken to comply with the requirements of the report.

Trial Examiner Wright Clark held hearings in Rockford, July 25 to 27, 1938. The specific complaint was that the company refused to rehire a group of nine workers in Sept. 1937 following a layoff.

NOLF HONORED

John T. Nolf, Dixon and Grand Detour artist and philosopher, has been signally honored by the Chicago Galleries Association in its preview of exhibitions Wednesday, Nov. 2, in that his eighteenth painting on display have been accorded a special room. The exhibition will continue until Nov. 23, announcements received here today stated. The galleries are located at 215 North Michigan avenue.

Democratic Treasurer Accused of Openly Flouting Senate Committee's New Ruling

Washington, Oct. 22—(AP)—The Republican national committee accused the Democratic national committee today of "openly" flouting a ruling by the senate campaign expenditures committee on political contributions by federal employees.

SLAYER OF HOME WRECKER ACQUITTED IN 2 HOURS

Crowded Court Room Wildly Cheers Verdict Freeing Sikora

Chicago, Oct. 22—(AP)—A jury of 11 husbands and a bachelor decided Rudolph Sikora, the "perfect husband," was justified in killing the man who stole his young wife's affections. They acquitted the 31-year-old defendant last night after deliberating less than two hours. They took only one ballot.

Russell F. Hornburg, 35, jury foreman, apparently voiced the sentiments of his fellow jurors when he declared: "We felt that he acted in a way that should protect the sanctity of the American home."

Edward Solomon, 35, the bachelor lover of Mrs. Margaret Sikora, was shot to death on a street corner last Aug. 22.

The jury's decision was acclaimed by a wildly cheering courtroom throng. Spectators, most of them women, screamed their delight and swarmed around the slender defendant.

"I feel swell," exclaimed Sikora.

Wife Expressionless
In contrast, his 22-year-old wife was calm, almost expressionless. She had scorned her husband's defense by taking the witness stand to vow allegiance to the memory of her dead lover.

"I expected that verdict," commented the pretty brunette. "The jury heard the evidence. They were the deciding factors."

Her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Boehme, burst into joyful tears. She had opposed her daughter in the dramatic trial by pleading the cause of her son-in-law.

The four-day trial was one of the swiftest in Chicago's annals. It also was the first major criminal trial in the city's history in which a wife testified against her husband.

The jury had four possible verdicts—death, life imprisonment, a minimum sentence of 14 years, and not guilty. Manslaughter and insanity verdicts were ruled out by mutual consent of counsel although the defense was based on the "emotional insanity" of the defendant at the time of the slaying.

No Memory of Shooting

Sikora testified that his three years of marital bliss were shattered by his wife's clandestine romance with Solomon, her fellow office worker. He described his vain efforts to effect a reconciliation, and how he sought out Solomon the day of the killing to put a stop to the affair. But to all questions about the actual shooting he replied "I don't know" or "I can't remember."

Only shortly before the slaying, he testified, his wife called him a "perfect husband" although she had renounced his love.

Sikora, his attorney said in final arguments, had the right to protect his home "against the inroads of a hypocritical seducer."

The prosecutor said: "If your wife leaves you, the legal remedy is divorce, gentlemen."

$700 PAYROLL HOLDUP

Chicago—(AP)—The $700 payroll of the Kingsbury Beverage Co. was seized yesterday by two young masked robbers who climbed through a window of the plant.

Absentminded

Bedford, Ind., Oct. 22—(AP)—When Joe Cassidy lit his pipe for a peaceful smoke there was an explosion. Joe's pipe flew into pieces—and he lost the gold crown from a front tooth.

In the pipe fragments he picked up the remnants of a .22 calibre rifle cartridge which he had absentmindedly stuffed into the pipe with the tobacco.

Democratic national treasurer, solicited federal employees, including civil service jobholders, for contributions "to meet a most unexpected emergency."

"The phraseology of this letter," the Republicans added, "clearly indicates that the funds sought are for use in the current campaign to reelect Democratic members of house and senate. "Consequently any contribution by a federal employee at this time to the Democratic national committee is an indirect contribution to the campaign of senators and members of congress and therefore, under the Sheppard committee ruling, illegal."

DIXON MOTORIST SOUGHT FOR PART IN AN ACCIDENT

The St. James corners, four miles south of Dixon on U. S. route 30, was the scene of another serious automobile wreck last evening at 6:30 in which two men were injured. Henry Moore, 22, suffered a broken leg and Theodore Zarnecki, 23, sustained deep scalp lacerations. Both men are employed by the Illinois Central and were returning to their homes at Oglesby from their duties at Cedarville.

State Officer Edward Mahan was called to the scene of the wreck and the injured men were removed to the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital. Zarnecki was able to return to his home last night after his injuries had been dressed, but Moore will be confined at the hospital for some time, his leg having been broken at the knee. The car, which was the property of Moore, was demolished.

A north-bound car, reported to have been driven by a resident of Dixon was said to have been responsible for the accident, and state police today were attempting to locate the driver. According to the report of the state officer, the Dixon motorist turned out of the northbound traffic lane to pass another machine and crashed head on into the Moore southbound car, then sped away from the scene without stopping.

FRIGID WEATHER SWEEPING TOWARD MIDWEST TONIGHT

Chicago, Oct. 22—(AP)—Freezing temperatures over a large block of the middle west were forecast today by J. R. Lloyd of the weather bureau. "The Chicago area and downstate Illinois would escape the worst of the chilly change, Lloyd said, the mercury probably falling no lower than 36 degrees in the metropolitan region tonight.

The forecaster said a cold air mass from the northwest would, however, administer a dose of wintry weather to the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, western and northern Kansas and central and western Wisconsin.

Downstate Illinois and Indiana were expected to share below normal temperatures by Sunday morning, but freezing weather was considered unlikely.

At Phillips, in upper Wisconsin, snow and sleet cut off power service today, snarled communications and curtailed highway traffic. The storm, which broke last night, followed a period of relatively high temperatures. The disturbance apparently fell upon Ironwood, Mich., also. Communications failed this morning, shutting off direct word of conditions there.

Storm warnings were flown from the upper reaches of Lake Michigan.

GREEK BISHOP DEAD

Athens, Oct. 22—(AP)—Archbishop Chrysostomos of Athens, 69, primate of the Greek church, died today of heart disease. The archbishop had entered a hospital Oct. 12 for a rest cure.

CLEAN UP LOWELL PARK.

WPA workers are engaged in removing several thousand wild gooseberry bushes from Lowell park, under a state wide project which is planned to eradicate white pine blister rust in this section. The bushes are being grubbed from the park property and burned. The Frank O. Lowden Sinsissippi estate south of Oregon, has been completely cleared of thousands of wild gooseberry bushes to prevent a spread of white pine blister rust.

DIED IN SO. DAKOTA.

Dixon friends have received word of the sudden passing of Mrs. Melvin Boyer at her home near De Smet, S. Dak., on Wednesday of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Glessner received a message stating that Mrs. Boyer passed away quite suddenly Wednesday, following a stroke. She was a sister of the late Fred Fitts of Dixon who passed away about a year ago. The Boyer family formerly resided on a farm in South Dixon township, but for several years past, have resided on a farm near De Smet. Mrs. Boyer is survived by her husband and three sons. The funeral and interment will take place in De Smet.

From London she flew via Imperial Airways to Paris and returned on the Normandie to New York where she stopped for two months at the Waldorf-Astoria, visiting back and forth with her sister, Mrs. George Strafford Andrews, and friends, in Rye, N. Y.

Mrs. Towne was accompanied on her Norway cruise by some Chicago people including her nephew, Howard Lahman Arnold of the University of Chicago.

HANKOW'S FALL IMMINENT, JAP OFFICIALS SAY

Duplication of Victory of Canton Yesterday Expected Soon

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The 15-month-old war in China rolled today toward a new climax before Hankow and possibly the decisive Japanese stroke while a new storm of combat appeared to be gathering in the 27-month-old Spanish civil war.

Europe proper rested a bit uneasily in the crisis-born peace of Munich, meanwhile arming against the day when that peace might be shattered. The French cabinet approved stern measures to length working hours in national defense industries, particularly in airplane factories, and listened to a report on the progress of French-German rapprochement.

Hundreds of thousands of Czechoslovak and Hungarian troops faced each other along the zone where Hungary has demanded a surrender of territory in the manner of the Munich award of Czechoslovak Sudetenland to Germany.

Germany Tests Wind

Germany sent up a trial balloon to test the currents of opinion in Britain and the United States on a three-party agreement to supplement or supplement the projected Anglo-American pact. The proposal came from authoritative quarters in the German economic ministry.

Japanese commanders of the campaign against Hankow, Chinese military capital, said capitulation was imminent.

Although the drive has been in progress about four months as against the successful 10-day Canton offensive, the Japanese in the Yangtze valley seemed likely now to duplicate the South China victory of yesterday.

Warn of Mass Bombing

Mass bombing of the Hankow area to shatter the last Chinese resistance was foreseen in a warning that foreign vessels at the great river port proceed at least 10 miles above Hankow by midnight tonight.

IN NEW BUSINESS

William Barge of New York City has established himself in business at 15 East Fortieth street. His business is sound proofing, metal furring and lathing of radio studios and large apartment buildings. He was associated with the U. S. Gypsum company for eight years and the George F. Homes company for ten years. Mr. Barge spent his boyhood in Dixon and was a graduate of the Dixon high school. During that time he resided with his aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Barge Martin. He is the son of the late John Barge and grandfather of the well known attorney, William Barge. His great grandfather, Father John Dixon, was the founder of this city.

Young Snite's Trip to Florida Starts Tuesday

Chicago, Oct. 22—(AP)—The iron lung trip of Frederick Snite, Jr., to spend the winter in Florida will start Tuesday afternoon, the office of the paralysis victim's father announced today. Making the trip with young Snite in a special car attached to the Dixie Limited of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railway will be the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick B. Snite, Sr.; a doctor, two orderlies, six nurses and two Pullman company electricians.

Snow and Sleet

Phillips, Wis., Oct. 22—(AP)—Snow and sleet, driven by a strong northeast wind, cut off power service here today, disrupted communications and hampered highway traffic.

The storm set in early last night after a day of sunshine and comparatively high temperatures.

Montana Ranch's Advertisement for Machine-Gunner to Kill Elk Brought Response

Laurel, Mont., Oct. 22—(AP)—A Montana ranch's newspaper advertisement for machine-gunners to kill elk which have been eating the ranch's hay brought a quick response—from the chairman of the Montana game and fish commission. "Any killing of elk will be done in compliance with the law and any violators will be prosecuted," Chairman B. L. Price said last night, pointing out that machine-gunners are taboo for big game hunting in this state.

Rapid Results

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 22—(AP)—When William Goessling, 59, walked into police headquarters and asked Chief of Detectives C. W. Jesberg to help him get back into jail he got rapid results.

Jesberg hooked the aging man for vagrancy and brought him before Police Magistrate Jean F. Saner. "Six months at the Vandalia state penal farm," the magistrate ruled. Goessling said that suited him fine—he'd been there before and liked it.

10 O'CLOCK DEAD LINE OF CONCERT LEAGUE'S DRIVE

Availability of memberships to residents of Dixon and the trade area who have not been contacted by the co-workers conducting this week's campaign of the Dixon Concert league, was stressed last night by Mrs. I. B. Hofer, campaign chairman.

It is impossible, according to Mrs. Hofer, for the co-workers to see all persons who wish to become members of the league, and those wishing to join may make application at the headquarters at the Dixon Chamber of Commerce before 10 o'clock tonight.

Last minute decisions will be made this afternoon and tonight regarding the concert series of three programs. Only members will be able to attend these concerts, as no single admissions will be sold.

Besides a concert by the Vienna Choir Boys, a recital by the pianist Percy Granger and a third concert, which may be the Saldenberg Symphonietta, members of the Dixon league are granted reciprocity with the Freeport league and may attend the concerts there, which include such talent as James Melton, the Coolidge string quartet, and the pianist Krehm.

W. S. Wright, director of organization and publicity for the National Concert league of Chicago, who has been assisting Dixon workers, addressed the Mendelssohn club of Sterling last night and early this evening he leaves for Aurora to attend the closing of the campaign in that city.

AWARD CONTRACTS FOR PREPARATIONS OF ROAD BUILDING

The road and bridge committee at a meeting yesterday afternoon, awarded three contracts preliminary to the construction of a black top spur road extending from U. S. route 30 north of the Borden cendensory and connecting with U. S. route 52 at the Lowell park road corners. A crew of 50 WPA workers is expected to start work about the first of November constructing the drainage system.

The Wisconsin-Illinois Concrete Pipe & Tile company of Beloit was awarded the contract to furnish the concrete pipe for the storm sewers. The Home Lumber Company received the contract for the brick and cement to be used in building the storm sewers, and the cast iron grates are to be furnished by the Hoppe Foundry Company of Chicago.

The improvement will be the most important to be carried out under the county's work relief program. About one mile of road connecting the two federal highways running west and north of Dixon will be connected with a black top surfaced roadway. The construction of the storm sewer drainage structures will be carried on during the winter months, but grading and surfacing operations will not be started until next year.

HEALTH PICTURE

Announcement was made by the State Board of Health at Springfield today that a moving picture, "A New Day", which deals with pneumonia, its ravages, cure and prevention, will be shown at the Dixon Theater October 23-29, inclusive. The health service is desirous that all citizens of Illinois see this highly educational picture.

JOHN HELFRICH ALONE IN FATAL ACCIDENT TODAY

Oregon Men Crushed Under Auto; Mendotan Hunting Victim

John Helfrich, 27, of route 3, Dixon, died at the Sterling Public hospital at 11:35 o'clock from injuries he had sustained at about 8:30 a. m. today in an unexplained automobile accident on the Sterling-Freepoint black top road, about two miles north of its intersection with the Lincoln Highway at the eastern city limits of Sterling. Death was caused by an internal cerebral hemorrhage, it was announced at the hospital. Early this afternoon arrangements for the inquest and funeral had not been completed.

State police who investigated following the accident were of the opinion that Helfrich, who was driving a car belonging to Ed Dunbar of Lyndon, lost control of the machine while traveling at a high rate of speed, for the car turned over several times and he was thrown through the top. He escaped being cut by glass in the car, every window of which was broken, the auto itself being practically demolished.

The victim of this morning's tragedy lived with his wife and two-year-old son, John, Jr., in one of the Flamm cottages near White Rock. In addition to them he is survived by seven brothers and four sisters.

KILLED UNDER CAR

(Telegraph Special Service)
Oregon, Oct. 22—Bernard Francis of 805 South Third street of this city was fatally injured this morning when the car under which he was working slipped off the improvised jacks and crushed his skull.

He had been working behind the city hall on a car belonging to Robert Meier also of this city, and had lifted the machine with a jack and supported it on bricks. When the car slipped he was pinned beneath it for about 15 minutes before being discovered by Meier and Charles Carr.

The victim was rushed to a local clinic and an attempt was made to operate, but he died within three quarters of an hour at 9:45 A. M.

He is survived by his widow, two daughters and a number of brothers and sisters. An inquest was scheduled for 2:00 o'clock this afternoon by Coroner J. C. Akins.

HUNTING FATALITY

(Telegraph Special Service)
Mendota, Oct. 22—William Eich, 30, of this city passed away at the Harris hospital here this morning at 10 o'clock following a hunting accident earlier today when he was shot by a discharge from the gun of his companion, George Yost of West Brooklyn.

The two men had gone ducking in the region east of West Brooklyn. Parents of the victim were unable to report details of the accident other than the fact that Eich was shot in the back. He was rushed to the hospital here where it was discovered his sciatic nerve had been severed.

Mr. Eich is survived by his widow, his parents and two children aged 10 and 4 years. The body was removed to a local mortuary awaiting plans for the funeral.

Messenger Boys Request Wage Rule Exemptions

New York, Oct. 22—(AP)—Organized telegraph messenger boys countered with a strike threat today the request of their employers for exemption from a 25 cents an hour minimum of the Federal wage-hour bill effective Monday.

Application of Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies for exemption of the messengers was taken under advisement by Dr. William Leiserson, department of labor mediator, at the conclusion of the hearing last night.

The strike possibility was raised by Joseph P. Selly, vice-president of the American Communications Association, a union claiming to represent the messengers. He said 80 per cent had voted to strike if the employers went through with a proposed wage reduction.

FOUR SIXTH FIER

The Shappert Engineering Company started the final pour on the sixth pier of the new Galena avenue bridge at an early hour this morning and expected to complete the pour by early afternoon. Work will be started immediately on the fifth pier and as soon as completed the steel sheet-piling will be removed and placed for the third and fourth piers.

View Your Home With the Critical Eye of Your Friends

By Paul T. Haagen

Did you ever open your front door and go inside your home, look at the rooms there with the critical eye of a friend or acquaintance who might just chance to come in?

What would she see?

First, would she sense an air of inviting comfort?

Is it the kind of home she would like her family to live in?

Your friends probably judge your home by its appearance, its air of comfort and its obvious conveniences. Why not sit in impartial judgment upon your own home?

There is no need for your rooms to be drab, dreary and uninteresting. The trend toward dark-colored and heavy papers of some years ago has given way to light—mirrors and plenty of natural and artificial light, carefully considered, brighter colors on the walls, more than one shade being used as long as they blend harmoniously and give a pleasing effect.

You can modernize your home and make it interesting and attractive at a low cost today because most favorable terms for financing the work are available.

Beginning with the entrance to your home, let us consider a few important details. Is the entrance itself attractive? Is there a suitable and slightly storm enclosure for the winter months, and do you have it repaired or painted and kept up to date when you put it away for the summer months?

Look to your windows. Are they loose so they make weather-stripping or storm sash necessary in order to prevent heat losses and drafts? Are the screens for the windows and porches repaired and ready to be put up in the Spring?

Your living room walls might be re-papered or repainted, which might call for a new color scheme in draperies, for Venetian blinds—for a different treatment of the mantle; for a new arrangement of the pictures or perhaps a new type of wall decoration altogether.

And the kitchen. Is it attractive? It is a pleasure to work in a modern, convenient kitchen and it is most important that the kitchen be arranged for ease of handling the routine of cooking and cleaning up after meals. Built-in cabinets, a new linoleum floor covering, a coat of paint and fresh bright curtains will work wonders with this indispensable and overworked room.

Perhaps you can bring much pleasure into the lives of the children by constructing a playroom or a study or hobby room in the attic—using insulating board on walls and ceiling for comfort and by ingenious use of grooving or moulding, making a most attractive room.

You may find that by installing a dormer to supplement a large unused space on the second floor you can have a sewing room, or a dressing room or even a small bedroom. An extra bath might be a real luxury.

Or perhaps you might like to modernize one of your existing bathrooms. Practical tileboard that may be decorated in any color that looks much the same as real tile may be used, or you may choose a tileboard that comes already finished to be installed around the plumbing fixtures. By use of chromium-plated mouldings to accentuate the tile patterns and cover the joints, a pleasing note is introduced.

USE OF GLASS

There is a marked architectural trend toward the use of glass in newer construction—both interior and exterior uses being found for it. This seems to be a trend that is not only beautiful but practical and sensible.

Broad window areas afford greater light and a more gracious frame for beautiful views outside. Glass mirrors add a seeming spaciousness within, and may be utilized to complement and accentuate the decorative scheme of the rooms.

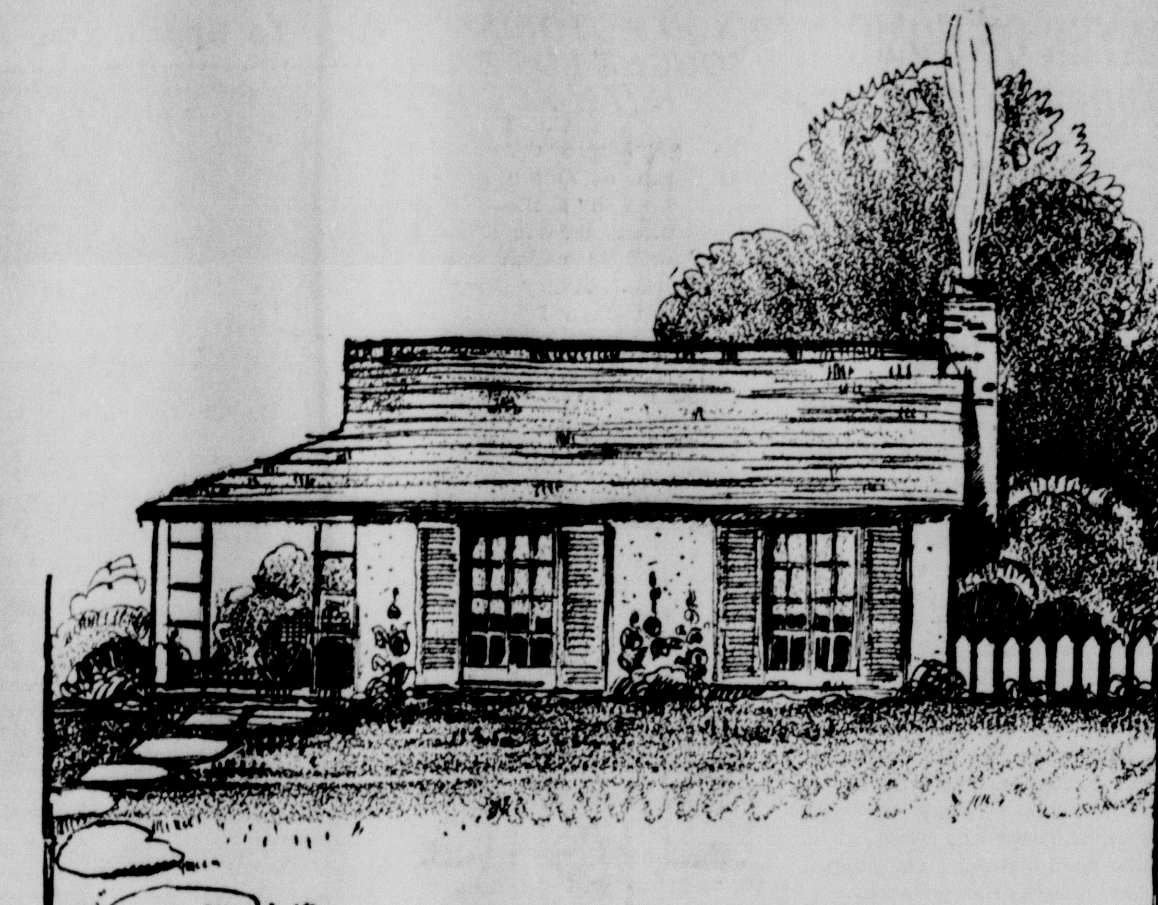

Glass contributes a pleasing effect of smart sophistication and of good taste to design and decoration, when simplicity is the keynote.

FARMERS FOND OF CARS

San Francisco—(AP)—Farm families have approximately twice as many passenger automobiles as telephones and nearly three times as many cars as radios, figures assembled by the California State Automobile association show.

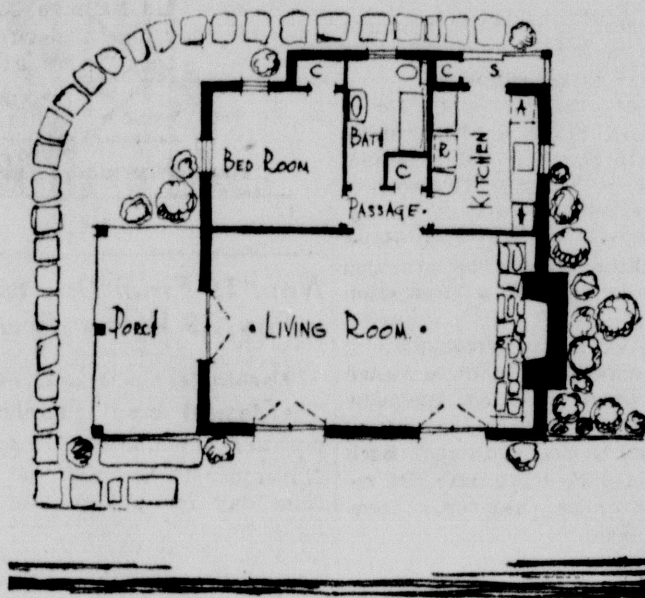

A bridge foursome could play 24 hands every day for a period of 6,123,828,480,455,803,565,917 years and never have the same distribution of cards.

HONEYMOON COTTAGE

This honeymoon cottage of three rooms and bath is a very compact and inexpensive plan to build. The large living room affords ample space for a dining table so that the customary dining room may be eliminated. The kitchen has full facilities. A is the refrigerator, R the range and H is a small hot water boiler used as a heating plant, S is a small rear porch to which opens a closet for brooms, etc.

The main entrance is through the porch, which may be screened in the summer and glazed in the winter, thus providing an additional protection against drafts and cold and offering an added room.

Mrs. Lloyd D. Coleman, Reporter

OBITUARY

Mrs. Ida May Ketcham Snelling, daughter of Martin Van Buren Ketcham and Susan Jane Ketcham, was born in Schaffield, Minnesota, on March 16, 1861. She passed away after a long illness on Oct. 20, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Rochelle hospital. On Sept. 7, 1879 she was united in marriage to John Nelson Snelling, in Leland, Ill., and the couple made their home in the vicinity of South Paw Paw for the next fifty years. On Aug. 24, 1922, Mr. Snelling's death occurred, and about two years later she moved from the farm to her home in the south part of Paw Paw, where she had resided since. She is survived by one sister, Minnie Forsyth, of Santa Monica, Calif., and two sons, Roy of Earlville and Hugh of Paw Paw. There are also ten grandchildren. Mrs. Snelling possessed many friends among the older women of the community, and will be greatly missed by those who have known her through the years. Funeral services were held in the Methodist church in Paw Paw on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Lloyd O. Coleman officiating. Burial was in the South Paw Paw cemetery. Lawrence Hampton sang, and Mrs. Gertie Smith played the piano.

L. E. JONES PASSES
Word was received here on Wednesday evening by Mrs. Ada Bryant of the death of her brother, L. E. Jones at his home in Hershey, Neb., and Mrs. Bryant and son left at once to be in attendance at the funeral services held there on last Sunday afternoon at the home in Hershey, with burial in North Platte. Mr. Jones was born at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones, at the farm home about two miles west of Paw Paw, and was 79 years old at the time of his death. He grew to manhood in this community, and went west over fifty years ago, marrying there, and making his home in that vicinity until his death. His widow survives him. Mr. Jones was one of four children of Charles and Martha Jones. One brother, and Mrs. John Adrian of Compton have preceded him in death. Mrs. Bryant is the last surviving one of the family and will remain in Nebraska at the home of her sister for an indefinite period.

HERE AND THERE

Mr. and Mrs. Bayle Harper and daughter Lorraine were in Aurora on Thursday.

Mrs. Marion Wise and children, and Frank Wise were Plano callers on Thursday.

Mrs. Lettie Hyde left on Friday afternoon for Earlville where she will make a stay of several days at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Dunn, of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Prieskorn were in Somonauk on Thursday of this week.

Miss Charlotte Town submitted to an operation in Dixon Thursday morning, and is reported making a satisfactory improvement at this writing.

Mrs. Matilda Fowler, who spent the summer here with Miss Cynthia Morrow, left on Wednesday for Cincinnati, Ohio, where she will visit for a time. Later she intends to go to St. Paul, Minn.

PRESBYTERIAN SUPPER

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will serve a supper at the church Oct. 29, preceding the Republican meeting to be held there. The public is invited.

HOME MISSIONARY MEET

The Home Missionary society of the Methodist church held its regular monthly meeting in the church parlors on Wednesday afternoon of this week with a good attendance present. A number of ladies from the newly organized society of the Plano church were present. The study book of the year was presented very ably by Mrs. H. C. Barton, and other matters of business were brought before the group. Rev. Coleman gave a brief talk. Following a social hour, Mrs. Gertie Ramey, president of the organization, and Mrs. Lloyd O. Coleman, and Mrs. Gertie Smith served tea and cookies.

PAW PAW BRIEFS

The ladies of the Triple S class of the Methodist church served a delicious chicken dinner to a large crowd on Friday evening.

Mrs. John Thrope spent Friday with her cousin, Florence Smith, in Scarboro.

The Stowing club sponsored a private dance at the school gymnasium Friday evening, with Salvatore's Nite Owls from Rockford playing.

The members of the junior class of the local high school have received their class rings this week, and are very proud of the very attractive design of the rings.

Mrs. Myrtle Harris attended the teachers' institute Thursday and Friday.

Miss Irene Marshall is spending the week end at her home in Sycamore.

Mrs. Blanche Roberts and son, David of Polo attended a turkey supper in Earlville on Thursday.

Mrs. Arthur Harper's car was considerably damaged when struck by a car driven by Mr. Koch Friday morning. Neither Mrs. Harper or Mr. Koch were injured.

Miss Lois Avery entertained a number of young ladies at a newly organized bridge club meeting on Tuesday evening, with two tables in play. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Mrs. Robert Wheeler of Downers Grove, is spending the week with her mother, Mrs. Nellie Adrian.

Mrs. Nellie Adrian, Mrs. Robert Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Torman attended the chicken supper in Compton on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Emma Hazeman is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. W. Prieskorn at the present time.

Mrs. Ella G. Swarthout has recently returned from Los Angeles, Calif., and came to Paw Paw on Wednesday afternoon, where she visited relatives.

Mrs. Gertie Smith returned home on Wednesday after a few days visit in Elmhurst, Ill. While there she attended the reception given by the Elmhurst Methodist church in honor of Rev. Joseph Burrows, former pastor of this place.

Milo Prentice has been released from the Rochelle hospital, and is now at the home of his sister, Mrs. John McLaughlin.

The Boy Scout troop will hold its meetings on Monday evening hereafter.

The Twentieth Century club met on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nellie Adrian, for its regular monthly meeting.

Joseph Safranek and family spent Thursday in Chicago on business.

CHURCH NOTES

Baptist Church

Services Sunday as follows: Sunday school at 9:45 with a song service preceding the study hour. Morning worship at 11:00, with a sermon on the subject, "And Noah Got Drunk." B. Y. P. U. at 6:30. Evening service, subject, "The Fate of the World." Prayer meeting on Friday evenings at 7:30.

Presbyterian Church

Sunday school at 10 A. M. Morning worship at 11 A. M. Rev. John Goodpasture, of the Mendota Presbyterian church will conduct the services, and will conduct the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

THE FIRE HAZARD

Most fires start either in the attic or in the basement. They are started by spontaneous combustion of carelessly placed rags or other inflammable material; by defective wiring or by sparks from the fire; by overheating of wooden members placed too near the chimney or perhaps by a too thin flue tile.

For years we have had automatic sprinkler equipment for larger buildings, but recently a junior installation has been designed for residences which may be placed in the basement or in the attic.

This junior system includes all the important features of the standard automatic sprinkler protection; it is fed from the domestic water supply through flexible copper tubing on which a series of sprinkler heads are mounted which operate rapidly in case of fire.

Any experienced plumber can install such a system in a very short time.

MODERNIZATION

by PAUL T. HAAGEN AIA

TRELLISES

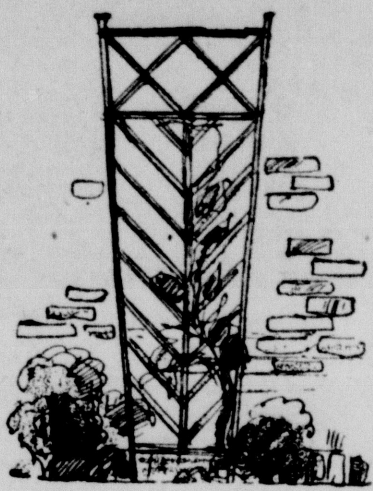

Trellises placed against a wall surface are indispensable as decoration and very practical where vines are to play a part in the garden arrangement. A trellis is a light framework of lattice, primarily made for supporting plants but it is often used on a porch around a yard where privacy is needed.

As a decorative addition to a wall, a trellis becomes an exceedingly interesting feature between two windows. Any of the trellis designs shown accompanying this article will be useful in this way. The fan-shaped trellis, which is not shown here, is a very graceful and informal type. It is particularly fine for climbing roses.

A trellis should always be blocked out a few inches away from the wall, using small wood blocks to allow space for the climbing vines to pass behind the lattice.

There are many uses for trellises such as a decorative framework of lattice which may be used to emphasize an otherwise unimportant doorway and add more charm and delicacy to such a feature. When used around a doorway it is possible to build a light roof over the trellis, providing protection from the elements.

Where trellises are used as a screen on porches or for fences in order to enclose small spaces, the lattice material should not be placed as far apart as the trellis which is used for climbing vines.

PORCH FLOORS

During the winter season the porch floors are subject to wear and particularly to weather hazards—wet and freezing conditions. If you have not painted your porch floors for some time, we suggest you plan on applying a special exterior floor paint as soon as the weather settles and the wood dries out.

If you have a terrace or porch floor of concrete, it may be preserved and made much more slightly by the application of a coat of cement floor paint. If it has not yet been painted, it should be first primed with a special cement primer that seals up the pores of the cement and serves as foundation for the paint which follows.

Paint is a preservation in the case of concrete the same as that of wood; it prevents the surface from chipping and dusting to as great an extent, and many interesting effects may be secured by the choice of color and methods of application.

Cellar Should Be Dry and Comfortable

If you wish to assure yourself a dry, comfortable cellar, be sure to see that the exterior surface of the foundation walls below the finish grade is coated with hot tar or asphalt and that an agricultural tile drain is laid at the base of the wall, connected with the sewer drain.

To preserve the basement floor and keep it clean of dust and abrasion, paint the floor with a cement paint, and if the use to which you are putting the space justifies it, wax the floor so it may be easily swept and mopped.

No closet is more convenient than one in the bathroom to hold linens and extra supplies.

A closet that is only eleven inches deep takes up little space in the bathroom and yet it is adequate for the purpose. It also provides an excellent place for hanging the towels in daily use. Holes or ventilation should be provided in the door to give a circulation of air.

In the kitchen a great help is a small cupboard with screened doors in which food too hot to be immediately placed in the refrigerator may be placed to cool. Such a closet may be built over the refrigerator or at any other convenient place.

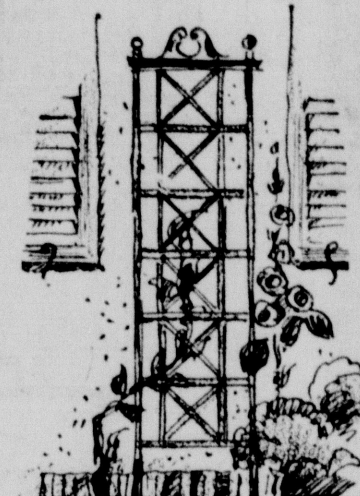

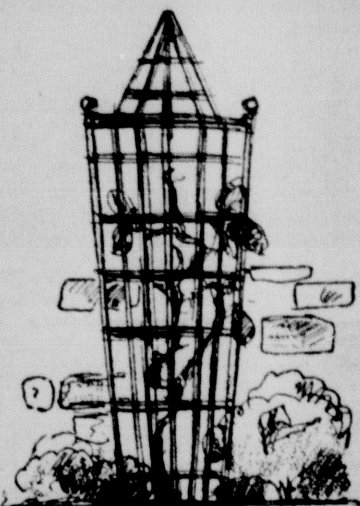

Aviator Sued for Damage Done in Crack-Up

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 22—(AP)—When John R. Heckman's airplane cracked up last Memorial Day on Emil Ackerman's farm, the farmer charged in a suit filed in Winnebago Circuit court here that seven acres of prospective crops were plowed under.

For this alleged crop curtailment and also for damage to a large section of fence, Ackerman sought $1,000 from the Chicago aviator.

Ackerman said the airplane damaged five acres of oats and two acres of barley. Heckman was attempting a take-off from a field on Ackerman's farm south of Rockford after a forced landing. He was only slightly injured.

A Long Island corporation is developing a 1000-h. p. airplane motor which will mount an air-cannon in the crankshaft.

Nov. 19 Final Day to Pay '39 Wheat Premium

Washington, Oct. 22—(AP)—The federal crop insurance corporation announced Friday that November 19 had been set as the final day for payment of premiums on 1939 wheat crop insurance in 20 of the principal winter producing states.

Leroy K. Smith, manager of the corporation, said the only exception would be the case of farmers whose premium notices carried a date of expiration later than November 19.

In these cases the final date stated on the notice will be the last day on which a county supervisor can receive the applicant's wheat or cash equivalent payments.

Winter wheat states in which the deadline applies are: Arkansas, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

In France, one man in every six uses a bicycle and pays an annual tax of 12 francs for doing so.

GOOD THOUGHTS

His arm around you, well beloved—
The Father's strong and shielding arm:
What evil thing can you find there?
What menace do you any harm?

Look up, dear heart, His holy truth
Shines forth to bless both you and yours,
The light that lit the wilderness
For other pilgrims still endures.
—Maude De Veise Newton.

Fear cannot live where Christian faith and hope and love are found. These are the positive powers which are ours in Christ, powers strong to deliver us and make us the free, unafraid children of God.

—F. G. Hoggarth.

Moral courage is free and fearless because it is inspired by the understanding of spiritual reality. This spiritual courage proceeds from trust in the infinite ability of God to guide and guard his children, and from a deeper understanding of the obedience which acknowledges His will as supreme.

—The Christian Science Monitor.

Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.

WAGE-HOUR LAW MONDAY

The federal wage-hour law goes into effect next Monday.

Legislation so far-reaching may be challenged in the courts, as were AAA and NRA. In fact, a test of the law may be expected if for no other reason than the clarification that might result from its examination.

One of the aspects of the wage-hour law is that it establishes, under a time schedule, a minimum wage. It also provides for maximum hours of labor. Many employers have hurried to find whether the law applies to their particular business. Many without doubt will adopt its provisions pending interpretation by legal authority. Some commentators believe adequate warning will be given by prosecutors before legal action is taken for violation. Others profess to believe there may be some "cracking down" without warning.

Some aspects of the law seem to be decided in advance. At one time the supreme court of the United States invalidated a law fixing minimum wages for women employed in the District of Columbia. This ruling was made in 1923 by a 5 to 3 vote. The decision was based on the right of private contract. By this decision it was made apparent that if the congress could not fix wages for women in the District of Columbia, then it could not fix wages for both men and women throughout the United States. But in 1937 the supreme court reversed itself by a vote of 5 to 4 and upheld state minimum wages for women. Inferentially, then if the congress can fix women's minimum wages, it can fix minimum wages for men. We may expect the supreme court to be asked for a decision on the interstate commerce angle of the act, for there is variance of opinion as to what constitutes interstate commerce.

The pending child labor amendment to the constitution may be affected by the wage-hour law; if the law is upheld by the court under test, the constitutional amendment campaign would be largely unnecessary. The wage-hour act closes interstate commerce to products made by children under 16, and to products made by children under 18 in hazardous occupations. Exceptions are possible, subject to approval of the children's bureau.

THE HORRIBLE EXAMPLE

When governments get into trouble they seem to have a tendency to seek a cure in larger and larger doses of what ails them, instead of in throwing out the poisonous so-called panaceas.

The horrible example is France.

The French refused to pay their war debt to the United States, thereby making it impossible to obtain governmental credit here.

They failed to take a firm stand against violations of the Treaty of Versailles, thus weakening themselves so that they were unable to prevent seizure of Austria and Hitler's subsequent operations in eastern Europe, which now threaten French trade seriously.

They formed a strong attachment with Communist Russia, with the result that the Communist groups are now powerful in France, so affecting labor that the French are unable to maintain public order and operate national defense programs.

They compromised in their fiscal arrangements until the franc is almost worthless as compared with sounder currencies.

Obviously, when a small boy eats green apples and becomes ill, a step in the right direction would be to cease eating the unripe fruit. Hardly anybody would recommend that he should eat more and more green apples. France may not be an exact parallel with the small boy, but when the French government, instead of abandoning the policies that have brought the people near anarchy and bankruptcy, indicates that it will continue its indiscretions, then we may doubt the government's political sanity.

The French now plan to recognize Ethiopia as an Italian possession; they plan further devaluation of the franc; further concessions to radicalism are probable, and no satisfaction is in sight in regards to the war debt. Parliamentary, Fascist and Communist policies do not mix in a republic. We shall expect France to take one of the three roads eventually.

GUINEA PIGS

To the average man, guinea pigs are:

- (1) Something on which doctors, or somebody, perform experiments . . . or is it white mice?
- (2) Little animals possessed of great appetites and ditto reproductive powers.

The latter impression was more widespread a generation or so ago, because it was in 1906 that Ellis Parker Butler, native of Muscatine, Ia., produced Pigs Is Pigs, a short story which established his fame as a humorist, and the guinea pig's reputation as a multiplicationist.

Everything is relative, of course, and compared to that of an elephant the fecundity of a guinea pig would be a marvelous thing indeed. But rabbits, enjoying lesser fame than the one preserved for posterity (excuse it, please) by Pigs Is Pigs, produce litters twice as large and twice as frequently. Yes, and then some.

Fact of the matter is, the real way in which guinea pigs excel is one seldom if ever mentioned. Because they are small, require little care, little room and practically no expense for food, need no licenses, are exceptionally clean, and are gentle and amusing little creatures with a certain amount of intelligence, they make ideal children's pets, especially for city youngsters whose yards are small.

ACCELERATED FRENZY

What to do . . . what to do?

The savages of primitive society spent a large proportion of their time tearing neighborhood tribes to pieces, according to Ethnologist Dr. Alfred Metraux, because their rapid system of communication within the tribe made it easy for the chief to arouse the whole gang to a simultaneous frenzy.

The civilized tribes of today, Dr. Metraux declares, are being hurried right back into savagery for the same reason, except that the members of the modern tribe communicate their frenzy to one another before the chief gets the words out of his mouth. When it comes to frenzy, we're self-starters.

Dr. Metraux suggests that in view of this fact the only defense against war is the creation of a universal fear of it. Now there's no use getting frenzied over this suggestion, but mightn't the better course be the creation of a civilized contempt for frenzy? The notion is not without basis that the fear of war itself can drive a nation into conflict as easily as anything else.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

(Editor's Note—This week's winner of the Brass Ring, good for one free ride on The Washington Merry-Go-Round, is Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan.)

Washington—After the retirement of Justice Sutherland from the Supreme Court last spring, Roosevelt called Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan to Washington to discuss the idea of his taking Sutherland's place.

Whether Roosevelt meant to offer the job to Murphy outright is not known; because before he came around to that point, Murphy made an almost unbelievable move.

He said that he was too young to retire from active political life (he is now 45); also that he wanted to finish the job of being Governor of Michigan. Then he went on to explain that too many of his public jobs had been interrupted by promotion to other posts, and this time he wanted to stay on and finish what he was doing.

He had resigned as judge of the Recorder's Court in Detroit to become Mayor of that city. Again, he had resigned as Mayor in order to become Governor-General of the Philippines, resigning from that in turn to run for Governor of Michigan.

Now, he told the President, he wanted to finish his work as Governor of Michigan before he went on to anything else.

By an ironic twist of fate, it now looks as if the people of Michigan might retire Murphy as Governor after only two brief years in the executive mansion.

In this event Murphy still may have a chance to attain the Supreme Court, for the seat made vacant by the death of Justice Cardozo remains unfilled.

LABOR VS. BUSINESS

Murphy's political fate now hangs upon the outcome of one of the toughest battles in the country. The United Automobile Workers are leading the campaign to re-elect him. Business men, on the other hand, both large and small are determined to "get" him.

No one can predict the result. At present it looks like a 50-50 fight, with almost anything capable of turning the balance.

It is particularly significant, however, that the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. are working in complete harmony for Murphy's re-election, even spending money for joint newspaper advertisements. Since these factional wounds of labor were healed, Murphy's political stock has gone up from the prospect of certain defeat to a chance for re-election.

JUDGE MURPHY

Had Frank Murphy accepted the President's intimation that he step up to the Supreme Court, the Eight Old Men would have been augmented by one of the fairest and most painstaking jurists in the country. When Murphy was judge of the Recorder's Court, he kept a little cardboard placard behind his desk where only he could see it. It read: "If you must err, err on the side of leniency."

Explaining this to friends who saw the little sign, Murphy said: "A judge's decision depend on his mood, his temper or his digestion. So whenever I'm not feeling well, or got up on the wrong side of the bed, I take out this sign and keep it in front of me."

Further to prevent error, Murphy also attached to his court a doctor, a psychiatrist, and a social worker, who examined every criminal before Murphy passed sentence. Frequently they dug out facts in the past life of the accused which helped Murphy to pass judgment more intelligently.

Murphy also called every convict into chambers and privately told him in advance what his sentence would be and why. He hated to see a man stand in open court and get the sudden shock of a sentence without advance preparation.

TOLERANT CATHOLIC

Governor Murphy is a devout Catholic, attends mass regularly. Even his critics give him credit for broad tolerance. Once when he was a judge, a Negro doctor moved into a white district in Detroit and a crowd gathered outside his house threatening to lynch him. The Negro fired, killed a man, and Judge Murphy acquitted him on the ground that every man's house is his castle and the crowd had no right to attempt entrance.

This tolerance toward white and black, Jew and gentile, Murphy got from his mother.

"As we sat at our window," Murphy says, "and a colored man of our town would go by, she would tell me what a high-class citizen he was. Across the street from our home lived a Jewish merchant named Jacobs, and I remember that mother would point out to me what a fine, friendly fellow he was, how he looked after his children."

"As I look back, I can see now that my mother was deliberately teaching me racial and religious tolerance."

SITDOWN STRIKES

As Governor, Murphy has been chiefly criticized for his handling of the sitdown strikes. Michigan business men assert that his failure to evict the strikers started an epidemic of strikes all over the country.

Undoubtedly this criticism will cut deeply into the Governor's votes on election day. His reply, however, is that if he had used troops, blood would have flowed throughout industrial Michigan, that his more tolerant handling brought about a settlement without the loss of life.

This is one of the basic characteristics of Frank Murphy. He abhors bloodshed. Another characteristic is his fighting sympathy for the underdog. He is frankly, definitely, enthusiastically pro-labor, believes that relations between capital and labor constitute the nation's most difficult problem.

Further, he believes that the capitalist system as it once flourished in this country is finished.

"The old order is gone," he says. "We had best forget it and start rebuilding the new."

Perhaps more than in any other state election this fall, that will be the issue in Michigan on November 8.

INDUSTRY WILL BE EDUCATED IN MUNITIONS PRODUCTION

Washington, Oct. 22—(AP)—Military men predicted today President Roosevelt's projected new defense measures would include an increase in expenditures to educate industry in the manufacture of munitions.

The first $20,000,000 provided by congress for that purpose has not yet been expended, but some officials favor speeding up the program, which is designed to gear industry more closely into the preparedness machine.

A recommendation that the present $10,000,000, five-year program be doubled or tripled has been considered in the re-study of national defense needs undertaken at Roosevelt's behest.

The funds would be spent on "educational orders" for certain arms and equipment needs in wartime, so that industry would have advance experience and the necessary tools for making them in event of war.

The orders are in line with Roosevelt's recent disclosure that the defense re-study included means of mass production of planes and other weapons and supplies.

Conspiracy Trial Goes Into Fifth Day Today

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 22—(AP)—The Federal district court trial of seven Hot Springs residents, including three former ranking police officials, on charges of conspiracy to harbor Alvin Karpis, one-time public enemy and now a life termer at Alcatraz, dragged into its fifth day today.

Foregoing a Saturday recess, the government marshaled another set of witnesses in its efforts to show that the defendants connived to shelter the gangster at the Arkansas resort city while he was being sought in 1935 for the $200,000 kidnaping in 1934 of Edward Bremer, St. Paul banker.

Three pretty women, who told the jury they formerly resided in disorderly houses operated by Mrs. Grace Goldstein, Karpis' common law wife, testified these houses at the spa were frequented by Karpis and at least three members of his gang.

DON'T MARRY THE MAN

By Jeanne Bowman

The Characters
Kathleen Gregory: goes West incognito to secure a right-of-way for the Gregory mine shaft from MacDonald.
Donald MacDonald: hates the Gregorys.
Bridget: Kathleen's companion.

Yesterday: Kathleen's father asks her to get the papers proving priority of claim from Balmy. In a violent quarrel Kathleen refuses.

Chapter 21 Up In Flames

Downstairs Donald MacDonald paced the floor and came to a stop before his mother to utter a few words, then pace on.

"I didn't cave-drip," he protested. "I only heard a few words, just enough to know that there is a letter which will prove priority of claim of the Gregorys; that she, as I've suspected at times, and forced myself to deny at others, is The Golden Girl; and that her father has ordered her to get that document away from the old man. She will. He's crazy about her."

Mrs. MacDonald shook her head. "And because he is, as you call it, crazy about her, he'll never give it to her. You know Balmy as well as I do. Balmy's love for his making is greater than his love and loyalty to The Golden Girl. That very loyalty would prevent him from putting a weapon into her hands. You know his beliefs. He'd feel he was harming her."

"But imagine rotters who'd play the game that way; who'd hate a family enough to want to wreck them!"

"Your father would have hated Angus Gregory enough to do the same thing. You know I adore Donald's memory. I'd be the last one to stain it before his son, but Angus is truth. And you haven't exactly loved them yourself, my boy."

"Loved them!" exclaimed Donald. "I hate them. I detest every hair on that girl's head under that stupid, defiant, and I send everything she stands for. I want her out from under this roof tomorrow morning."

"I think you'd better go to the hotel and stay the night. I send a regal little figure, her face frozen into unrelenting lines. 'This is my house until you marry, and I'll have no hatred dwelling in it.'"

"I'm sorry, mother," he stood before her, contrite for the harm he had done her. "But I . . . oh—"

"I know, dear," Her hand stroked the head, bowed to her shoulder. "I know so much more than even you know . . . about yourself."

When Kathleen came down in the morning her eyes were still slightly swollen, and her manner apologetic. Bridget was manifestly worried. She had tried to reason with her before she had left her the previous night.

"I know your father better than you do," Bridget insisted. "He's just talking. That's the best thing he does. He's baffled. He's found something he can't buy and he's trying to bluster his way to it. He'd never do anything really wrong."

Bridget wasn't so sure. She sipped orange juice, nibbled at toast and sipped coffee. "Mrs. MacDonald," she said suddenly, "Balmy had the Gregorys to tea yesterday. They're staying on for a few days. I feel we've imposed upon you long enough. We'll move down to the hotel today."

"You'll do nothing of the kind," retorted Mrs. MacDonald. "Neutral ground."

"But you don't understand," Kathleen protested miserably. "We . . . yesterday they talked of the feud and the right-of-way and . . . well, all of a sudden they're people like the miners, more than we have of the MacDonalds and . . . my sympathy is with them. I can't break bread with you under the circumstances."

Mrs. MacDonald laughed gaily. "Well bless your heart, now you have to stay. I've no sympathy with this feud. This is my house, though the mine is my son's contract. Now you consider this neutral ground? As far as the Gregorys are concerned, they and their sympathizers. I wouldn't care if you were The Golden Girl herself. Personally, I've admired her. I've heard of her. It's all ways seemed a pity to me that such a spirited girl couldn't find some fine outlet for her talents."

Kathleen found herself in the woman's arms. "I could almost like Dad for being your son," she whispered, and was surprised at the laugh this evoked.

Joey-wide-eyes, perched on the rear barrier fence, whistled a queer flute-like tune. Entranced, the girls looked out to see him frantically beckoning.

"The Angus gentleman desires parley with person in owner of car," he shrieked.

Bridget sighed. "That means me," she said and donned wraps. She returned an hour later to find Kathleen alone.

"He wants me to drive to the mine," Bridget explained briefly, then launched into the real mission. "And more than anything he wanted to have me assure you he hadn't meant what he said last night. He'll bargain with Balmy as you would have bargained."

Kathleen relaxed for the first time. "Oh, I'm glad. Belief in integrity of your family means so much, Bridget."

She remained at the window. Kathleen laughed heartily at her father trying to control the old car as it bucked down the hill with clanking chains, and then she stiffened.

The moment the car was out of sight, Beatrice Gregory had appeared. For a moment she scanned the MacDonald lodge, then as though assured no one was watching, set off across the drifts towards the mine trail.

Beatrice Gregory had questioned Old Balmy about that back route to his cot, Kathleen remembered.

Kathleen wasted a few moments arguing with herself, berating herself for her suspicions. But couldn't that have been her father's reason for reassuring her? Hadn't he been trying to throw her off guard? She thrust her arms into a white ski coat, she had made from a Hopi blanket, pulled a white stocking cap over her curls, donned galoshes, and set forth in the wake of her aunt. It was easy enough to follow her tracks. They led, as Kathleen had suspected, to the summer mine trail, then back towards Balmy's cot. Kathleen came quietly up on the terrace and peered in through a window. Beatrice sat before the table, a sheaf of letters spread before her; a stack of envelopes to one side, the right side. Her face was obscured by the blue smoke of a cigarette.

You Can't Do This!

Softly, swiftly, Kathleen slipped around the house to the front door. Beatrice couldn't do this. She found she wasn't fighting for Old Balmy; she wasn't trying to protect the MacDonalds, she was trying to protect her belief in the integrity of her own people.

Opening the door she stepped in. Beatrice was sitting in a chair, both hands occupied with opening another envelope. "Aren't you proud of yourself," observed Kathleen.

Kathleen Gregory started, then laughed. "We should have employed you as a detective instead of a vampire; we'd have had better results." She went on reading. "Aunt Bee, you can't do this. I shan't let you."

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Certainly, and properly so. Formerly a woman had just two possibilities — being married or being laid on the shelf as an "old maid." Now that she has a hundred other careers open to her in the industrial, business and educational fields, her life is not narrowed down to this simple dilemma.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. This would seem a pretty common sense proposal and one that at least is not likely to do any damage, since such men probably have a sounder heredity of mind and body to transmit to their children. If such men should have more children than the unhealthy, shiftless, lazy and incompetent, it would seem likely to improve the average health, intelligence and character of the race. France is now trying this on a pretty wide scale. It is too soon to make sure of the results but it is certainly a promising experiment which has the merit of running little risk of injuring the race and seems economically just.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. One psychologist tested a group of college students to see which they remembered more keenly—their correct or incorrect answers on examination. They remembered their mistakes much longer and more keenly. Consulting psychologists and psychiatrists find that some trivial mistake made in childhood—especially if it be one that has preyed on the mind and which has been concealed — has frequently changed the whole trend of a person's life, whereas thousands of happy successes have been forgotten.

Y Men Singers Will Give Concert Here

The "Y Men Singers" of Kewanee, a self-styled chorus of 30 men who "sing for the joy there is in singing and the inspiration they may possibly be to other singing groups," will appear in concert at the Dixon Methodist church at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening, under auspices of the Wesleyan society.

During the past two years, the Singers have established themselves in the field of vocal music by their interpretation of popular male chorus numbers. They have presented programs over radio stations WLS, Chicago, and WMBD, Peoria, and have received numerous responses from listeners-in in several different states, commenting on the fine balance, tone quality, style and type of songs sung.

"The Hills of Home" by Fox, the "Song of the Open Road" (Malotte), contrasting with Handel's "Largo," and "Toly Art Thou" with its majestic climaxes, "Sea I Must Fare" by Bornschein, the popular number, "A Goldmine in the Sky," together with other outstanding numbers, will provide a pleasing program for Dixon music lovers.

The Y Singers was organized and is directed by Elmer Rice. Their headquarters are in the Y Community building in Kewanee, a structure erected at the approximate cost of $200,000. Athletics, dramatics and music are emphasized.

Amboy Girl is October Bride

Miss Mildred Rose Leake of Amboy, who pledged nuptial vows with R. Stanley Myers of Arlington Heights at the Amboy Methodist Episcopal church this afternoon.

Miss Mildred Rose Leake of Amboy Exchanges Vows with R. Stanley Myers in October Wedding Today

Transformed into a bronze and gold setting to harmonize with the early autumn season, the interior of the First Methodist Episcopal church at Amboy presented a beautiful background this afternoon for an impressive nuptial service in which Miss Mildred Rose Leake, elder daughter of the W. J. Leakes of Amboy, became the bride of R. Stanley Myers of Arlington Heights, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Myers of Mt. Vernon. The Rev. E. W. Jones read the vows at the hour of 3 in the presence of 150 guests.

There were two huge baskets, filled with shaggy bronze chrysanthemums, dahlias, and oak leaves, at either side of the altar, with yellow tapers in tall white seven-branch candelabra shining down on the scene. Bronze-colored cornucopias containing bronze and yellow garden flowers marked the pews.

A prelude of nuptial music was offered by Mrs. Oliver Eckburg, organist. Just before the opening strains of the traditional wedding march from Wagner's "Lohengrin" were heard, Mrs. C. Walter Jacob of Mendota sang Grieg's "Ich Liebe Dich" and "I Love You Truly." The Mendelssohn recessional was used.

A sartorial revue of grace and beauty passed before the eyes of the wedding guests as the Leake-Myers bridal party entered the church, passed down the aisle, and took their places for the ceremony.

Coming first were the ushers, William Rossiter, Marion Hogate and Dr. C. E. Hill of Arlington Heights, William Jacob of Amboy, Kenneth Gross of Franklin Grove, and Ray Chambers of LaGrange, the bridegroom's brother-in-law.

The bride's sister, Mrs. William T. Jacob, her matron of honor, was preceded by six bridesmaids, Miss Rae Long, Miss Katherine Spalding, and Mrs. George Wald of Chicago, Miss Dorothy Bristow of Arlington Heights, Miss Ethel Clarke of Peoria, and Mrs. Harry Yaeger of Litchfield, entering two by two.

Miss Leake was given in marriage by her father, and was met at the altar by the bridegroom and his brother, William Myers of Mt. Vernon, who served as best man. Surrounded by her modishly gowned attendants at the altar, she was most attractive of all in her gown of lustrous white tulle, feta.

Her wedding dress, fashioned with leg-o-mutton sleeves extending in points over her wrists, had a softly-draped neckline caught with a pearl clasp, and from diamond-shaped inserts at the waistline, her skirt flared slightly into a long train. A row of tiny covered buttons extended from neckline to waist in the back.

The single strand of small matched pearls and the pearl ear rings she wore were her gift having planned a longer trip for the Christmas holiday period, when they will motor to New Orleans and Florida. For traveling the bride wore a dress of wine costume suit, trimmed with sable-dyed squirrel, and dubonnet accessories.

After Nov. 15, Mr. and Mrs. Myers will be at home in Arlington Heights. The bride was graduated from Dixon high school in 1926, and later attended the University of Illinois, where she was pledged to Kappa Delta sorority. For the past five years, she has managed a chain of Swirl Beauty Salons in Chicago. Mr. Myers was graduated from Mt. Vernon high school and Southern Illinois State Teachers college at Carbondale, later attending the University of Illinois. For five years, he has been teaching mechanical drawing in the Arlington Heights high school.

Oct. 22 is already a well-remembered date in the Leake family, marking as it does the birthday anniversary of the bride's paternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Jarvis Leake of Dixon, as well as the wedding anniversary and birthday of her aunt, the late Mrs. Hubert Bahen, (Alice Leake).

Out of town guests attended from Woodstock, Barrington, Arlington, Chicago, Litchfield, Ottawa, Mt. Vernon, Dixon, Franklin Grove, Mt. Olive, Ashton, Peoria, and Mendota.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. George Elmer Rynearson of 1420 West First street will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, a family dinner at the Colonial Inn in Grand Detour will be followed by an informal reception at the couple's home between 3 and 6 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Rynearson were married at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stout in West Brooklyn, on Oct. 24, 1888. They went to housekeeping in West Brooklyn, later moving to this city where they have resided for many years.

Mrs. Rynearson was born March 18, 1870, in West Brooklyn. Her husband, who was born at Lenox, Susquehanna county, Pennsylvania, on July 24, 1862, was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Rynearson. He came to Compton, Ill., at the age of 17, remaining there until after his marriage.

The Rynearsons have three sons, Glenn and Earl of Springfield and Ferris of Chicago. There are also two grandchildren, Nancy and John Rynearson.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Naylor of 211 North Ottawa avenue announce the engagement of their only daughter, Frances, to J. Corbus Hoffman, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hoffman of Mendota. The wedding is to take place soon, though the exact date has not yet been announced.

Both Miss Naylor and her fiancé are employed by the Illinois Northern Utilities company.

THANKSGIVING DANCE.

Thanksgiving week promises to be a doubly festive occasion for young Dixonites, with DeMolay members already busy with plans for their tenth annual Thanksgiving dance, Tuesday evening, Nov. 25, has been chosen as the date for the affair, and the Masonic temple is to be the setting.

Stan Stanley, originator of tick-tock rhythm, and his peppy band, will entertain from 9 o'clock until 1.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Halloween games and contests resulted in an afternoon of fun for guests attending a Halloween party at which Raymond Countryman was the young host today. Refreshments were served, after playtime.

Raymond's guests included Judy Jones, Rose Mary Murphy, Janet Robinson, Donna Christiansen, Mary Barry, Nancy Jo Countryman, Paul Arnold, Leonard Rorer, Jr., and Merrill Richards.

PALMYRA AID SOCIETY

Members of the Palmyra Aid society will meet in the basement of the Sugar Grove church on Wednesday. A picnic luncheon will be served at noon.

Statler-Miller Rites are Read; Couple is Motoring Eastward

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Tayman of 310 East First street announce the marriage of their niece, Miss Alice Marie Statler, daughter of Ray C. Statler of Palmyra township, to Leo J. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Miller, 208 East First street. The vows were read at 7:15 o'clock last evening by Rev. Father Leonard Guzzardo, at the rectory of St. Patrick's Catholic church.

The bride wore a tailored black frock with matching accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses. Her cousin, Miss Elsie Tayman, as maid of honor, chose a brown shirtwaist frock with matching accessories and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums. Frank Buckley served as best man.

When they return from a wedding trip through the east, the couple will be at home in a newly-furnished apartment at 208 East First street. Since her graduation from high school, the bride has been employed as office manager of the Allied Adjustment company. Mr. Miller, also a Dixon high school graduate, has been associated in business with his father at the J. E. Miller & Son automobile agency.

Dixon War Mothers Meet for Election

Mrs. Lottie Sandberg was re-elected president at yesterday's meeting of Dixon War Mothers in the G. A. R. hall. Other officers named were:

First vice president, Mrs. Mayme Atkins; second vice president, Mrs. Henry Hardesty; chaplain, Mrs. Sadie Atkinson; recording secretary, Mrs. Clea Bunnell; historian, Mrs. Lucy Eastman; custodian of records, Mrs. Hannah Miller; pianist, Mrs. Joseph Alshouse; assistant pianist, Mrs. Gladys Miller.

Plans were completed for a scramble luncheon on Nov. 4, complimenting the state president, Mrs. Angeline Reis of Aurora, who will install the newly-elected officers. A rag-sewing bee was planned for the second week of November, the exact date to be announced later.

DIXON COUPLE WEDS IN IOWA

Lee Bivins of this city announces the marriage of his daughter, Mrs. Thelma Wilson, and Harvey Cline, both of this city, which was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal church in Davenport, Iowa. The Rev. Mr. Young read the single ring service at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Myrtle Ocker and Plurey Powell of Dixon attended the couple. The bride wore a gray suit with rust-colored accessories, and Mrs. Ocker was attired in navy blue.

Mrs. Cline is employed by the Brown Shoe company, and the bridegroom is an employee of the Medusa Cement company. They have taken an apartment at 510 West First street.

ALUMNI DANCE IS GAY

Familiar strains of the Dixon high school loyalty song was the theme song for the evening, when members of the Alumni association, seniors of '39, and their friends met in Rosbrook hall last night for the annual Alumni dance. Between 80 and 100 couples turned out for the affair, climaxing a thrilling afternoon on the gridiron, with the high school 11 wrestling a 7-6 victory from the Dixon grads.

Elaborate decorations, with the Halloween motif predominating, provided a colorful setting for the dancers, who were entertained from 9 until 1 by seven local musicians. As the midnight hour approached, dozens of balloons, and quantities of serpentine, confetti, and noise makers were released to the guests.

Among out of town alumni circling the floor during the evening were Miss Catheryn Buchner, who is attending MacMurray college in Jacksonville, and Howard Brown of Chicago.

DIXON TRAVEL CLUB

Mrs. Forrest Trautwein, 105 East Boyd street, will be hostess to members of the Dixon Travel club on Tuesday evening. The program is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock.

DINNER GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. John Davies were entertaining at dinner last evening. Their party numbered eight.

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON

The high school yesterday took a lead over the Alumni in the number of games won and lost as the varsity goes out in front with three victories and one tie compared to the one tie and two wins of the Alumni.

The local football season started off yesterday afternoon with a preliminary game between the sophomores and juniors of the high school. The juniors proved flighty and the sophomores mighty and the latter won on a 6 to 0 count. The second year men scored in the second quarter on a pass from Padilla to Walder. The try for extra point failed. The juniors threatened in the last frame when Collins intercepted a pass from Crawford by the juniors' fumble on about the 10-yard line and lost the ball.

Bob Edous, playing with the sophomores in the preliminary game yesterday at the high school field, suffered a broken left arm in the second half. The injury was described as a compound fracture.

Rochelle held second place in the Rock River conference last night by defeating Oregon on a 14 to 7 count. Guil, Rochelle fullback, scored a touchdown in the second quarter when he took a lateral pass from May. May drop-kicked the extra point. In the third frame May plunged through left tackle for four yards over the goal and was responsible for the successful kick for the conversion. Oregon's touchdown came in the last quarter when Ferguson plunged over and Putnam drop-kicked the extra point. Each team made six first downs.

Lake Geneva, Wis. high school was prevented from getting its 20th straight victory last night when DeKalb held their visitors to a 12 to 12 tie. Prentice of DeKalb was responsible for both of the hosts' touchdowns. One was on a 6-yard plunge and another on a 25 yard run. Pasaka plunged 2 yards for Lake Geneva's first score and Hamersley plunged 3 yards for the second.

The sophomores and juniors playing in yesterday's inter-class clash were Bug, Travis, Sanford, Valle, Quick, Forman, Pierce, Walder, Buxton, McNichols, Padilla, Arnold, Edous, Koon, Clayton, Arnold, Bay, Boehme, Brainerd, Buchanan, Camery, Christman, Drew, Hill, Marshall, Meyers, Palmer, Shoaf, Bunnell, Schrock, Collins, Handel, Dennison, Greer, Gearhart, Klehner, Williams, Lee, Moser, Crawford.

The first cribbage session of the fall-winter season was held at the fire department headquarters last evening with George Schultz and his Franklin Grove peggers going down in defeat before Dave Kelly's fire-laddies. Kelly and Miller were unbeatable in the series and piled up a long lead over their opponents, the series closing with the count standing 20 to 12. The visiting team was composed of such veterans as Captain Schultz, John Vogt, Kelly and Stultz. Captain Kelly and his partner, Joe Miller, held down one table which Chief Sam Cramer who started, was relieved by City Clerk Wayne C. Smith who completed the session at the second table with E. L. Fulmer.

From the Camps

NOTRE DAME

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 22—(AP)—Notre Dame matched its swift backfield against a confident Carnegie Tech eleven, regarded as equally fast, as the two undefeated rivals met today for the 16th time. The duel promised to draw upwards of 40,000 spectators.

The Irish, well reinforced at every position and the favorites, sought their fourth straight triumph of the season over the ever troublesome Skibos who last year carried off a 9 to 7 victory. Carnegie Tech also has been undefeated in three starts this year.

BOILERMAKERS

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 22—(AP)—The Boilermakers of old Purdue sought a place in the victory column of the Big Ten football standing today against Wisconsin's Badgers as a homecoming gift to old graduates. Approximately 20,000 fans were expected to watch the two teams square off in a rivalry that dates back to 1892.

Wisconsin won over Iowa and Purdue dropped a close decision to Minnesota in their only previous conference games.

THE ILLINI

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 22—(AP)—A University of Illinois eleven revamped for speed took on the Northwestern Wildcats today in a Big Ten battle certain to ease congestion in the tight 1938 title race.

Despite coach Bob Zuppke's lineup shifts, the faster Wildcats remained favorites to win their first conference game. They played to a scoreless tie with Ohio State in their title opener last week. Illinois defeated Indiana in its only other Big Ten start. Attendance at the homecoming feature was expected to reach 35,000.

YALE ELIS

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 22—(AP)—Fritz Crisler's "Yale Bowl Jinx"—the hoodoo that lands on any team he leads into the big stadium here—was squarely on the spot today as his Michigan football powerhouse faced Yale's gridiron Elis before a crowd expected to near the 50,000 mark. Beaten by only one point by Minnesota last week, the Wolverines were favored to end Crisler's "Bowl Blues", despite the Elis' fine showing in whipping Navy last Saturday.

BUCKEYES

Columbus, O., Oct. 22—(AP)—Close to 60,000 fans were slated to swarm over Ohio State's stadium today for the Big Ten clash between the Buckeyes and Chicago's hapless Maroons.

The experts had it that the game could end in but one way—a victory for the heavy but sluggish Bucks—but Capt. Lewis Hamity's right arm was expected to lead a daring pass attack for Chicago.

Coach Francis A. Schmidt, who has watched his husky corps win one tie and lose one in three attempts, will take no chances. He said he would start his regular and leave them in until they had piled up a safe margin before turning the contest over to the reserves.

INDIANA

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 22—(AP)—Indiana university's football team went after its first victory of the season in a game with Kansas State today before an expected homecoming crowd of 20,000. It was the first time the schools ever had played each other.

The Hoosiers have lost Big Ten tilts with Ohio State and Illinois and battled to a scoreless tie with Nebraska. The Wildcats have bowed to Northwestern and defeated Missouri and Marquette.

HAWKEYES

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 22—(AP)—Colgate's Red Raiders brought their deceptive aerial maneuvers to Iowa stadium today for an inter-sectional football game with Iowa's Hawkeyes.

Iowa also planned to take to the air lanes in quest of yardage, hoping to match the tosses of Hal Lube; Colgate ace, with Nile Kinick's passing.

The curtain went up on Dixon's first home football game yesterday afternoon with a bang and came down with a clatter. What happened in the interval doesn't count as much as that initial minute and the closing seconds which were packed with frenzied excitement as the high school triumphed over the Alumni by a score of 7 to 6.

The high school's hopes for victory were dimming with the daylight in the last minutes of the game when an electric spark suddenly threw a new light on the situation and the regulars came off the field wiping their brows after a game they considered too close for comfort.

In many circles the high school was favored to win over the grads by a two touchdown margin, but those people couldn't be found in the darkness after the game.

The game started off with a sensational score. Dixon elected to do the kicking and it was first at ten on the Alumni 32 as the first play was executed—and its execution was almost the high school's.

Coakley took the ball on the first play and smashed through a papier-mache hold in the center of the high school line and with the aid of effective blocking, raced 68 yards for a touchdown. It seemed impossible, but there it was and the high school was immediately winded by the blow from Coach Roundy's men.

McMillion's attempted kick for the extra point failed and the score stood at Alumni 6; high school 0 until the closing seconds of the game.

In the first quarter each team made one first down. The high school's came when Coakley's pass was intercepted by Bevilacqua on his own 10 yard line and he raced to the 18 before he was downed. On the first play Page went through left tackle and guard for two yards before Richards, on a spinner, made it a first on the high school 28.

Pass Broken Up

Moore picked up a couple a yards on a plunge through center and on a reverse from Moore, Bevilacqua passed but Littrell broke it up. Moore, in punt formation, ran with the ball and lost 4 yards and on fourth down he kicked to Burke on the Alumni 30 who brought the ball back to his 41 before he was smothered.

Coakley on a line plunge through center picked up 3 yards and Burke on a right end run made it a first down for the grads to the high school's 43 yard marker.

On the next series of down the Alumni suffered a set back of 20 yards on penalties for holding and offside and failed to pick up the necessary yards for a first down after that. After Burke's kick, the high school took possession on their own 22.

On the high school's first play Bevilacqua went around right end for four yards and Richards hit the center of the line for a couple of yards more as the quarter ended.

Make First Down

The Lindellmen made it first down as the second frame started when Bevilacqua went around right end for four yards. The offense failed on downs and Burke of the Alumni took the ball on Moore's punt and was downed on his own 40.

There was an exchange of punts which found the ball back in the hands of the grads on their own 45. Murphy cut through right tackle for about a yard. Coakley picked up two yards to the Alumni 43 and Murphy raced around left end for a first down to the high school's 46. Littrell went through center for a yard and then picked up 2 more on an end around play. There was a penalty of 5 yards for offside on the grads. Coakley's basketball pass over the line was intercepted by Nicklaus. From the 42 yard line in his own territory Bevilacqua opened a passing attack which failed and the half ended.

Renewed Determination

The varsity of the high school returned to the second half with renewed determination and in the third quarter threatened the Alumni goal. On a drive from their own 45 the Lindellmen moved in a series of two first downs to the grads' 14. In this drive Bevilacqua took the ball from Richards on a reverse and went 3 yards before McMillion tackled him.

On the second play the ball went from Richards to Bevilacqua to Ashford who made it a first down to the grads' 45. A pass from Bevilacqua to Page was good for another first down to the Alumni 23 yard marker.

Threat is Ended

A reverse from Richards to Bevilacqua was good for about 9 yards to the Alumni 14, Richards on an attempted end around run tripped over his own interference and lost 5 yards, tackled by Swain. Richards tried to smash the center of the line but was stopped for no gain. On another reverse, Richards to Bevilacqua, the latter lost two yards on an attempt around left end. He was downed by McMillion and Burke. The Alumni took the ball and ended the threat.

Mid-way in the last quarter Page kicked on his own 35 and the ball was downed on the Alumni 48 where Coakley was stopped for no gain on an attempt through left guard and tackle. The grads were penalized 15 yards for illegal use of hands and Burke kicked and Bevilacqua ran 25 yards before he was thrown out of bounds on the Alumni 48. A forward and lateral from Bevilacqua to Page to Mantsch gave the high school a first down on the Alumni 28.

Two passes by Bevilacqua to Ashford were incomplete before a third pass from Louie was intercepted by Murphy on the 10 yard line. Here Moore cleverly snatched the ball from him and raced over the goal. The official inadvertently blew his whistle and the play had to be called back to the 10 yard line where it was first and goal for the Lindellmen.

High School Scores

On the first play Bevilacqua went through right tackle for 3 yards before Richards went off left tackle to the one yard marker. On the third play Bevilacqua carrying the ball went through right tackle and guard for the touchdown.

Bevilacqua's place kick was good for the extra point to put the high school in the lead in the closing seconds of the game.

The high school players were not up to their usual standard and Coach Lindell expressed dissatisfaction with the poor blocking of his team. Page and Bevilacqua were not in the starting lineup but soon after the Alumni scored they were sent into the game and it was largely through their efforts that the game was turned from defeat to victory.

Coakley and Murphy were outstanding in the backfield for Roundy's men.

Maryland's Rich Race For Fillies Run Today

Laurel, Ind., Oct. 22—(AP)—Practically all of the good two-year-old fillies in Maryland—nineteen of them to be exact—were scheduled to go to the post today in the 13th running of the $10,000 added Selma stakes. Maryland's richest race for juvenile fillies.

The winner of the race last year, Edward Friendly's Jacala, was due to appear as favorite in the $7,500 Maryland handicap.

Although they were assigned top weights of 122 pounds each for the one-mile test, Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Dinner Date and Henry Lustig's Donita M. were expected to be among the favorites in the Selma at post time.

AUTUMN HANDICAP

Pawtucket, R. I., Oct. 22—(AP)—Despite a weight disadvantage that ranges from one to 18 pounds against nine speedy three year olds, the Calumet Farm's Bull Lea appears much the best of the field that will parade postward for today's $5,000 autumn handicap at Narragansett Park.

Florida Football Game Ends in a Free-for-All

Pahokee, Fla., Oct. 22—(AP)—Three players and the referee required hospital treatment after a high school football game ended in a free-for-all fight last night.

One of the injured players, Shirley Lacer of the Miami Beach team, was temporarily paralyzed but was expected to recover. It took four stitches to close the wounds of B. Arnold, the referee. The others were less seriously hurt.

Miami Beach led Pahokee 6 to 0 near the end of the game when a Pahokee player caught a lateral pass and ran for a touchdown. But Arnold called the ball back, asserting it was out of motion before the play.

Jackson Takes Lead in Champ Bowling Contest

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 22—(AP)—Lowell Jackson of St. Louis, Mo., took a nine-point lead over Ned Day of Milwaukee, Wis., at the end of 50 games in their 120-game duel for the world's match game bowling championship here early today.

Jackson's point score at the end of the 50 games was 2,434 and Day's was 2,407.

At the end of the first 40 games of the tourney, played at his home alleys last week, Jackson was 4,622 points behind his Milwaukee rival.

INTERSECTIONAL GAMES PREPARE TEAMS FOR FOES

Old and Honored Rivals Appear on the Bill for November

New York, Oct. 22—(AP)—Demonstrating, perhaps, that October football still is early season stuff to prepare the boys for the November tasks of battling at old and honored rivals, there's a flood of intersectional games on the national gridiron program today.

A dozen or so games will have important bearings upon major sectional or conference races. At least twice as many were rated first-line intersectional battles. The result, from one angle, was about the same, however. The major tests should attract somewhere around a half million fans.

Opinion was divided over the four leading intersectional tussles in the east—whether the most interesting spectacle should be the clash of Michigan's Western conference contenders, suddenly come to life this year under Fritz Crisler's coaching, and Yale's steadily improving team; Fordham's stubborn Rams and the Oregon Webfoots; the Pittsburgh powerhouse and the Southern Methodist aerialists; or Holy Cross and the Georgia Bulldogs.

In the mid-west there was just as wide a range of choice with Notre Dame vs. Carnegie Tech undoubtedly the No. 1 attraction. In the second rank there are Michigan State-Syracuse, Marquette-Texas Christian; Iowa-Colgate; Xavier-Kentucky; Drake-Miami (Ia.) Creighton-West Virginia and North Dakota-Montana.

Except for sending a few top-flight teams into other sections, the south and southwest stick pretty close to their own knitting, but in the Rocky Mountain sector there is the intersectional Brigham Young-Portland tilt while on the Pacific Coast Santa Clara, rated the best team in the district although it's not a conference member, tackles Arkansas from the southwest circuit.

Conference clashes
On the other side, leading conference clashes were Northwestern-Illinois and Purdue-Wisconsin in the Big Ten, where mighty Minnesota was idle and Ohio State plays Chicago. Oklahoma-Nebraska and Iowa State-Kansas make a pair of real Big Six tussles. Indiana plays Kansas State in an inter-conference clash.

A night game between Louisiana State and the Tigers' 1937 conqueror, Vanderbilt, headed the Southeast conference slate. Alabama-Sewanee and Georgia Tech-Auburn were other conference tests. Southern conference leaders apparently have few worries as Duke meets Wake Forest, and North Carolina plays Davidson, N. C. State-Furman, Washington and Lee-Virginia Tech, and William and Mary-V. M. I. round out the slate.

Southwest Conference
Baylor's Bears and Texas Aggies topped the Southwest conference while Rice met Texas. In the Rocky Mountain Big Seven Colorado State-Colorado, Wyoming-Denver, and Utah State-Utah provided plenty of action.

Stanford and Southern California met in the most interesting coast conference contest while California and Washington came together. Oregon State played Washington State and U. C. L. A. tackled Idaho's vandals.

Swinging back to the east's "Ivy League", Dartmouth's undefeated Indians encountered a potentially dangerous Harvard outfit on a renewal of one of the classic rivalries. Others were Penn-Columbia, Navy-Princeton, Cornell-Penn State and Wesleyan-Amherst.

Mrs. Susan Barkman very quietly celebrated her ninety sixth birthday anniversary at her home Monday. Several neighbors and friends called during the day to extend greetings. Mrs. Barkman is really wonderful for one of her age. She can remember very well, is a very interesting talker about the experiences of her younger life. Before her marriage to David Barkman she was Susan Eicholtz of Nachusa, but has resided here in this village for many years. She has always been a loyal member of the Church of the Brethren. Her many friends are hoping for her continuance in health and hope she may attain the 100 mark.

DINNER GUESTS
Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Crawford included Mr. and Mrs. Al Hall of Waterman, Mrs. Carrie Congron, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoopes of Aurora, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Presnell and family of this place.

KILO CLUB MEETING
The Kilo club held their first meeting Tuesday after the school vacation. As has been the custom for the past several years the first meeting is a one o'clock luncheon. The luncheon was held at the home of the newly elected president, Mrs. Carrie McGee. The house was beautifully decorated with fall flowers and Halloween colors. The committee having the happy event in charge was composed of Mrs. Carrie McGee, Mrs. Mae Gross, Mrs. Mary Miller, Miss Carrie Anderson, Mrs. Anna S. Buck. The next meeting will be held the first Tuesday in November and will be held in the home of Mrs. Kathryn Cover.

BARREL TO BE PACKED
The Methodist Aid society will pack a barrel of food Tuesday afternoon, for the old people's home in Chicago. Anyone wishing to donate cans of fruit are requested to bring them to the church Sunday morning or Tuesday morning. The church will be open all day Tuesday. It is planned to have the barrel packed for the afternoon train Tuesday.

FRACTURED ARM
Mrs. Jesse Sarver of Dixon is staying in the home of her mother, Mrs. Dorinda Fagley of this place. Mrs. Sarver had the misfortune to fracture her right arm an inch above the wrist Tuesday, when she stumbled over a rug on the stairs at her home in Dixon, and fell to the bottom of the flight. Mary Ellen, as she is known to her friends, has the sympathy of all her friends who hope she may soon be able to do her own work again in her home.

ATTENDED MEETING
Earl Buck of this place, Charles Whitehead, Cecil Natress, C. E. Yale of Amboy and Fred Gilmore of Compton motored to Peoria Tuesday and attended the annual meeting of the Illinois Farm Supply company.

DANCE A SUCCESS
The dance sponsored by Garnet Chapter, O. E. S., Tuesday night in Kersten gym was a decided success, a most lovely affair and the music furnished by the seven piece orchestra was just perfect. The gym was beautifully decorated with the fall decorations. Large pumpkins, corn shocks here and there added color to the Hall.

lowe'en decorations. It was the first social event of the season and furnished an evening's enjoyment to about one hundred and fifty people. We hear talk from all sides about having a dance every two weeks or at least once a month. Just a splendid idea, and it can be accomplished if it is just started.

VISIT ENJOYED
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bates and their son Wayne Bates and his wife left early Sunday morning for South Bend, Ind. where they spent Sunday and Monday in the home of the former's son Elwood Bates and family. They returned home Monday evening.

SERIOUSLY ILL
Mrs. Carl Blume is reported seriously ill at her home with an attack of pneumonia. Her many friends are hoping with the family that she soon be restored to her former health.

CHANGE OF DATE
The date of the Temperance meeting which was to have been held in the Church of the Brethren has been changed to Nov. 6. A program will appear in this column.

HELPFUL MEETING
The Sunday school classes of the Presbyterian church taught by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Dyvart had a meeting and social evening at the church. The meeting was presided over by the president, John Senger. Rev. Grafton had charge of the devotion and conducted the study lesson. After the lesson a social hour of games and visiting was enjoyed, during which Misses Eleanor Yocum and Dorothy Tholen, who were hostesses, served refreshments.

THIMBLE CLUB MEETING
The Thimble club held their meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Edgington. There were twenty-five members present and three visitors who were Mrs. Walter Gilbert, Mrs. Kathryn Cover and Mrs. George Miller. The afternoon was spent in playing games and visiting. The afternoon closed with lovely refreshments. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. John Morris, Jr.

COMPLETELY SURPRISED
Friends and relatives gathered at the home of Herman Greenfield, Jr., Monday evening to surprise Mrs. Greenfield on her birthday. The evening was spent in playing games and visiting. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Withey and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Greenfield and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edgington, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gilbert, and Howard Greenfield. A very nice lunch was served and after that Mrs. Greenfield received some very lovely birthday presents. At a late hour all departed for their homes, leaving her many more happy birthday anniversaries.

SANG IN CHORUS
A group of students from the Franklin Grove Community high school sang Thursday evening in a chorus of 184 voices at the Dixon high school auditorium, for the teachers' institute in session there Thursday and Friday. Mrs. Bertha Rorick, the music instructor of the Franklin Grove high school has been working with her pupils the past month preparing them for the big event. The chorus presented nine numbers which were well rendered and heartily received.

BIRTHDAY PARTY
Mrs. Lloyd Swartz planned and successfully surprised her little daughter Carolyn, Thursday afternoon with a birthday party. The little lady was six years old. The afternoon was spent in playing games at which Mary Louise Bieseker, Rachel Smith, June Miller and Marjorie Baker won prizes. At the close of the games refreshments of ice cream and cake were enjoyed. The cake was a lovely birthday cake with six little pink candles on it. The guests included Joyce Gilbert, Rachel Smith, June Miller, Marjorie Baker, Betty Lou Pfoutz, Mary Louise Bieseker, Mrs. Harvey Schwartz, Mrs. Melvin Swartz, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hartzell.

HAVE RENTED HOUSE
Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Swartz have rented the Clarence Hepler house next to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Miller and will move there about the first of November.

METHODIST NOTES
Sunday, Oct. 23, the sermon topic will be "Jesus, Friend of Sinners." The Epworth League will be led by Doris Howard. Thursday afternoon, the circles of the Ladies' Aid will meet. Count on Nov. 14 through 20th for International Fellowship week. Details will be announced later. Beginning in November, there will be a mid-week service every first and third Thursday evening. Any way in which such a service can be most helpful to you should be suggested to the pastor.

CLASS ENTERTAINED
The Home Economics class of the Franklin Grove Community high school entertained the agricultural class Wednesday evening at the school house. About forty were present, among whom were Miss Fisher, teacher of the home economics class, and LaVerne Baker, teacher of the Ag class. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing. The home economics girls served gingerbread with whipped cream. A jolly time was reported by all.
